Five Golden Bees Holiday Event

By Lady Spirit Moon, CN, MH, Certified Beekeeper, Certified Apitherapist

December 2nd was a special evening with the Five Golden Bees Holiday Event hosted by the Wild Mountain Bees and The Good of the Hive. It was a night of art, music, food, drinks, and fun for our beloved pollinators this holiday season. The celebration was in honor of benefitting pollinator related organizations which include The Good of the Hive, Bee City USA, Holy Bee Press, BEE Healing Guild, and Bee-Centric Alliance. All five organizations work together toward bee education and awareness.

Matthew (Matt) Willey, the founder The Good of the Hive, a non-profit organization was in attendance.

He is a renowned artist from New York now living in Asheville, North Carolina. Matt is on a quest to paint 50,000 bees across America to bring focus to honeybee awareness – a quest that has now extended into Europe. You may see one the bee beds he painted for the BEE Healing Guild which is now located at a personal property at Highland Lake Inn and Resort in Asheville.

One of Matt's prints, "Five Golden Bees," is for sale to support the five pollinator organizations honored at the holiday event. Click here to order one of these prints for only $39.95. Order by December 20th for delivery before Christmas. The proceeds from your order will help bring education and awareness to the health of our honeybees.

At the holiday event, I also was honored to receive my very own wings as a cherished pollinator. It was the first time in my life where I chose to look silly, but it was so much fun. I enjoyed getting out and seeing my beautiful bee loving friends. See Page #2 for more.

Electrical Mother Keeping Our Bees Healthy

Please check out our blog, Waggle Dancing, on the BEE Healing Guild website. In our latest blog, Our Electrical Mother, you will learn how everything on the earth vibrates at a certain hertz frequency and how these frequencies affect Varroa mites and hive beetles in honeybee hives. Also join up for our upcoming BEE Perspective Beekeeping Class to learn more (see Page #2).

Your Donations Help Honeybees

For every purchase made through Amazon Smile, 0.5% of your total is donated to a designated non-profit. Please choose our non-profit for honeybee awareness. You may also donate directly to our foundation at our website.

RECEIVING MY WINGS

Five Golden Bees Holiday Event (continued)

While we all had much fun at the gathering, one of the major goals of the honored organizations is to raise funds to help support a scholarship program. This scholarship program is a 3-year program that will help pay for all classes, equipment, bees, transportation, room and board, and more. The BEE Healing Guild, which is a non-profit beekeeping organization teaching BEE Perspective Beekeeping, will support this program. After all, we must support Mother Nature in taking care of our bees. Please make your donations at our website to support this very important program.

Upcoming Bee Class

By Lady Spirit Moon, CN, MH, Certified Beekeeper, Certified Apitherapist

Join us for the weekend of May 4-6, 2018, for our 3-day BEE Perspective Beekeeping Class. We will explain and demonstrate how the geomagnetic lines of the earth can be dowsed for placement of hives. My co-teacher for one of those days in our apiary is Lee Barnes, PhD. Lee dowses for a living and is an educator. The following is from his website:

"Lee Barnes (Ph.D. Environmental Horticulture) is an experienced naturalist and dedicated environmental activist, passionately advancing his & others awareness of the Southern Appalachian Mountains Bioregion (Katuah) through bioregional education teachings, book & magazine publications, & Land Stewardship Consulting business.

Dr. Barnes combines his knowledge of natural forest communities, Sustainable Agriculture & Permaculture training with a bioregional focus & additional "awareness of place" using dowsing/biolocation techniques.

Lee (1993 PDC graduate) has promoted permaculture through numerous presentations & workshops: was a founding member of the Eastern Permaculture Teachers Association."

This class will be held at Sterchi Lodge and is within walking distance of Max Patch on the Appalachian Trail:

"At an elevation of 4,629 feet, Max Patch boasts a 360-degree view of the Appalachian Mountains including the Blue Ridge and the Smokies. The Appalachian Trail crosses the top of the grassy bald. Wildflowers bloom there in the spring and fantastic leaf color can be seen in the fall. A short hike from the parking area takes you to the top. No bathroom facilities."

The lodge will sleep 42 in a dorm (21 bunks upstairs and downstairs each). Bring your own linen and toiletries. Toilet paper is provided. Three organic meals will be served on each of the days. Class will be held in the great room with one day to be determined in the BEE Healing Apiary. This class will include my book, BEE Perspective Beekeeping. Check back with us in January 2018 for prices and more information.
